If you are a School Leader of any description who has grown tired of failed attempts to program our way to improved student behaviour, then this event is targeted at you. You can expect to:

- Discover cutting edge brain research that transforms your understanding of student behaviour choices. No more will you cry "What was that all about?!". You'll know!
- Hear examples from schools who have stepped beyond the program threshold that has so failed to produce the outcomes you're seeking.
- Explore a free White Paper titled "Student Behaviour Improvement... Made Slightly Less Difficult"
- Devise a roadmap to commence work immediately on a more harmonious, respectful and responsible future.
